Senate Bill No. 1930

RECEIVED je

Introduced by SENATOR JOSEPH VICTOR G. EJERCITO

EXPLANATORY NOTE

Under the Local Government Code of 1991, the Local Government Units are given the power to create their own revenue sources with its characteristic of independence from the central government. Nevertheless, the national government has the obligation to promote the fiscal autonomy of local governments to provide basic services to their constituency; one is by enhancing their capacity to generate local revenues from real property.

Real property is the country's most important resource and biggest financial asset. A World Bank study indicated that 50%-75% of national wealth is contained in land. Therefore, real property has the largest potential contribution to national income for funding economic and social developments. However, due to the inhibiting factors, land and real property sectors only contribute a meager 6.6% to the gross national product (GNP) for the past years.

The challenges that prevent full appreciation of the benefits from real property are: (a) outdated real property values; (b) multiple valuation systems; and (c) chronic inadequacies in tax administration such as lack of assessment tools and absence of technically qualified personnel among others.

Through a strengthened Bureau of Local Government Finance, there shall be institutionalized reforms to adopt and develop generally accepted valuation standards, regulations and specifications for real property appraisal used for tax and other purposes. The establishment of Real Property Valuation Service (RPVS) ensures the completion of carrying out the policies and objectives of this measure. This measure also provides the Local Government Units with technical assistances and trainings among others to assure the qualification of local assessors and appraisers and separating the technical function of valuation from the political function of taxation by transferring the approval of Schedule of Market Values (SMVs) from the Sanggunian to the national valuation authority. Finally, a national database of real property transactions is maintained to ensure reasonable valuation.

In view of the foregoing, the immediate passage of this bill is earnestly sought.

AN ACT INSTITUTING REFORMS IN REAL PROPERTY VALUATION AND ASSESSMENT IN THE PHILIPPINES, REORGANIZING THE BUREAU OF LOCAL GOVERNMENT FINANCE AND APPROPRIATING FUNDS THEREFOR

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Philippines in Congress assembled:

SECTION 1. Short Title. – This Act shall be known as “The Real Property Valuation and Assessment Reform Act of 2013”.

ARTICLE I
DECLARATION OF STATE POLICY AND OBJECTIVES, AND DEFINITION OF TERMS

SECTION 2. Declaration of Policy and Objectives. – It is the policy of the State to promote the development and maintenance of a just, equitable, impartial and nationally consistent real property valuation based on internationally accepted valuation standards, concepts, principles and practices. Towards this end, the State shall:

- (a) Promote the fiscal autonomy of local governments to provide basic services to their constituency by enhancing their capacity to generate local revenues from real property;
- (b) Establish and maintain valuation standards to govern the valuation of real property in the country;
- (c) Adopt market value as the single real property valuation base for the assessment of real property-related taxes in the country, and for valuing or appraising real property for various transactions by all government agencies;
- (d) Separate the function of valuing or appraising of real properties from the functions of tax policy and administering the taxes due thereon;
- (e) Support the development and professionalization of the valuation and appraisal practice in the country pursuant to Republic Act No. 9646, otherwise known as the “Real Estate Service Act of the Philippines”;
- (f) Provide a comprehensive and up-to-date electronic database of all real property transactions;

(g) Support the development of a “body of knowledge” on valuation by continuing research and monitoring of new developments in the valuation discipline for upgrading the country’s valuation and keeping it abreast with global developments; and

(h) Ensure transparency in real property transactions to protect the public and develop confidence in the work of appraisers and assessors.

SECTION 3. *Definition of Terms. – As used in this Act, the following terms shall mean:

(a) Appraiser refers to a natural person who conducts valuation and appraisal; specifically, one who possesses the necessary qualifications, license, ability and experience to execute or direct the valuation and appraisal of real property; also known as valuer.

(b) Assessor refers to an official in the local government unit (LGU) who is a licensed appraiser, who performs appraisal and assessment of real properties including plant, machinery and equipment, essentially for taxation and other purposes. This definition also includes assistant assessors.

(c) Building refers to a man-made structure permanently attached to land for residential, commercial, industrial, recreational or other purposes.

(d) Improvements refer to a valuable addition made to a property or an amelioration in its condition, amounting to more than a mere repair or replacement of parts involving capital expenditures and labor, which is intended to enhance its value, beauty or utility or to adapt it for new or further purposes.

(e) Land refers to one of the major factors of production consisting sometimes of a material economic good, which is supplied by nature without the aid of man. Land may include not only the earth surface, both land and water, but also anything that is attached to the earth’s surface. Thus, all natural resources in their original state, such as mineral deposits, wildlife, timber and fish, are land within the technical meaning of the term; so also are sources of energy, outside of man himself, such as water, coal deposits and the natural fertility of the soil.

(f) Machinery refers to machines, equipment, mechanical contrivances, instruments, appliances or apparatus which may or may not be attached, permanently or temporarily, to the real property. It includes the physical facilities for production, the installations and appurtenant service facilities, those which are mobile, self-powered or self-propelled and those not permanently attached to the real property which are actually, directly and exclusively used to meet the needs of the particular industry, business or activity and which by their very nature and purpose are designed for, or necessary to its manufacturing, mining, logging, commercial, industrial or agricultural purposes.

(g) Market value refers to the estimated amount for which a property should exchange on the date of valuation between a willing buyer and a willing seller in an arm’s length transaction (a transaction between independent, unrelated parties involving no irregularity) after proper marketing wherein the parties had each acted knowledgeably, prudently and without compulsion.

(h) Private appraisal sector refers to licensed nongovernmental real estate service practitioners who have been active in the practice of real estate appraisal for the last five (5) years.

(i) Real estate refers to the land and all those items that are attached to the land. It is the physical, tangible entity, together with all the additions or improvements on, above or below the ground.

(j) Real property refers to all the rights, interests and benefits related to the ownership of real estate, plant, machinery and equipment.

(k) Schedule of Market Values, hereinafter referred to as SMV, refers to a table of base unit market values for all kinds of real properties, except machinery, within a local government unit prepared by assessors pursuant to existing laws, rules and regulations.

(l) Special purpose property refers to a property that is designed, constructed and developed for a specific use or purpose. By its very nature, this type of property is rarely offered for sale in the open market except as part of a going concern. Because of the special design and function, conversion of special purpose properties to other types of development or application is generally not economically feasible.

(m) Valuation and appraisal refers to the systematic and analytic determination and recording of property facts, circumstances, investments and investigation of other relevant data resulting in a supportable estimate and opinion of value or a professional conclusion based upon supporting data, logical analysis and judgment as of a specific date and for a specific purpose.
